

ADVANCED WEAPONRY FOR THE REVENUE WARS.

BULL'S EYE'S "smart" targets relay important game play information to a color monitor.

BULL'S EYE

BULL'S EYE combines the fascination of a shooting gallery with the high-tech appeal of a video game. And it's going to hit your market right where their coins live.

BULL'S EYE is an ingenious blend of reality and illusion. A full-size, chain-tethered M16 assault rifle "fires" plastic pellets at cardboard targets. Realistic sounding gunfire and "hits" are part of the game's advanced audio system. A color video monitor displays playing time and scores. BULL'S EYE is packed with safety and operational features you'll appreciate. Targets are returned to players via a horizontal conveyor. All hard-wiring is in-place for a Deltronic ticket dispenser. Capacities are huge — 850 targets and 5,000 pellets. Operator options include a choice of 5 or 10 shots per play; 30, 45, 60, 75 or 90-second playing time; two target motion sequences; and coinage requirements (0-8 coins). Safety features include plexiglass safety shields and an infrared sensor that deactivates the air pump if the rifle is pointed away from the target area. Call your authorized SEGA distributor for a closer look at BULL'S EYE. It could give you the revenue firepower you've been looking for.
