HURRICANES

he Hurricanes is about soccer and all the excitement and intrigue and off the field exploits of the colourful characters of the world's most popular professional sport.

The Hurricanes have been challenged by Stavros Garkos, owner of their long time enemies, the Gorgons. He "invited" the Hurricanes to play against this team the Gorgons on the island of Garkos in order that he can see who really is the best football team.

To add further spice to the challenge, Stavros has also offered to put $100,000, which will go to charity if the Hurricanes beat the Gorgons in this classic match. The Hurricanes must travel through various locations before they can finally reach the island of Garkos and the Gorgon stadium.

The Gorgons know that if the Hurricanes do not reach the stadium for the match, then they would win. The world would know the Gorgons were a better team than the Hurricanes - not forgetting the $100,000 that would no longer go to charity.

By selecting four of the most popular members of the Hurricanes squad, the player (or players) must ensure that the attempts of the Gorgons to stop the Hurricanes are unsuccessful and that the Hurricanes reach the stadium so that they can compete.
