SEGA CORPORATION

Petition for Provisional Disposition to Suspend the Execution of the Patent Owned by SEGA CORPORATION

On October 28, 2005, SEGA CORPORATION (Head office: Tokyo, President, Representative Director and COO: Hisao Oguchi; hereinafter "SEGA") filed with the Tokyo District Court a petition for provisional disposition to suspend the execution of the patent owned by SEGA against Taito Corporation.

SEGA has considered that "DINOKING BATTLE CARD GAME", an arcade game machine marketed by Taito Corporation, has infringed the patent (No. 3712122) owned by SEGA with regard to " MUSHIKING : The King of Beetles ", an arcade game machine, and has determined to file with the Tokyo District Court a petition for provisional disposition to suspend the production, use, sale, etc. of the product by Taito Corporation.

To protect its intellectual property rights, SEGA will take all appropriate measures whenever its rights are considered to be infringed.
