retro-bit[®]

Retro-Bit Publishing® strives to provide the re-releases of some of the most rare and unattainable classic titles to regions where they were never released. While closely partnering with licensors, Retro-Bit Publishing® brings these unique retro games to gamers today from around the world, and at a price worth collecting!

To commemorate each release, every exclusive republished game features multiple one-of-a-kind and limited edition collectible items to enhance the experience and add to every retro collection. With attention to detail of every title, Retro-Bit Publishing® has brought numerous retro gaming fans the chance to own time-honored classics in their original form - offering gamers the chance to...

Remember. Replay. Relive.

We do our best to establish each release to be a unique experience for the fans as well as pay tribute to the game and its developers. For each potential title, we look at:

- What sets it apart from other games
- How accessible the game is to own today
- Is there a story we can tell about the game

Each collector's edition should be an exciting moment in opening and fully experiencing an unboxing as well as a great game - all at an affordable price. With a growing interest not only in retro games but in original, physical titles, we continue to grow our efforts to bring hidden gems to retro game fans everywhere.

When it comes to these games, we go beyond what is on the outside. Each release must be able to be played on original and 3rd party consoles. Our development for each title requires extensive researching, engineering, and sourcing what is needed for the cartridges.

- Unique high-quality engineer diagrams for boards
- The only company to use NES® and SNES® 5-volt chips (will not damage consoles)
- Beveled insert points and rounded corners for SEGA Genesis®/Mega Drive cartridges to prevent damaging console slots
- Cross-region support for NTSC and PAL consoles when applicable
- Battery backed saves when title requires them

TOAPLAN

SHOOTERS

COLLECTOR'S EDITION

$44.99 EACH
$159.99 ALL 4

The Toaplan Shooters Collector's Edition was our most ambitious release to date. It brought four classic "shoot 'em up" titles by Toaplan® for the SEGA Genesis® to our fans. Each game - Hellfire, Truxton, Fire Shark, and Zero Wing - came chock full of extras. Zero Wing (known for the "All Your Base Are Belong To Us" meme) received a full translation of its over 30 endings as well as being the first time it is officially released in North America.

Each title could be purchased on its own or as a full bundle - great for fans new and old, alike! The Collector's Edition bundle includes each games' release as well as the following extras:

- A commemorative slipcover for all four games
- Thank You Card from Masahiro Yuge
- Zero Wing Collectible Enamel Pin

In Fire Shark, you play through 10 action packed stages as you bring down enemy tanks, planes, ships, and massive enemy structures. Strafe with your Wide Shot, slice through bombers with your Shark Beam, burn down battalions with your Super Fire weapon, or lay waste with your Bombs.

In Hellfire, you shoot your way through 6-massive stages using the unique weapons aboard the Sylphide. Fire your weapons using 4 different modes as you fight your way into the Super Mech's fleet using plasma shots, missiles, and lasers.

Wiping out hundreds of enemy vessels is my idea of perfect entertainment, and this delivers with a vengeance.
 - Matt Regan, Computer & Video Games (UK, Jan. '91)

Cool weapons, fast gameplay, and long levels. What more could a serious shooter fan ask for?
 - Sushi-X, Electronic Gaming Monthly (Mar. 1991)

The classic Truxton tasks you to take out all 8 asteroid bases across 5-massive stages using 3 upgradeable weapon styles and to put an end to the Gidan's invasion. Destroy each of their massive leaders including the mighty Dogurava. Prepare for takeoff, Captain Tom.

"The compelling music and explosive sound effects make playing Truxton like living the latest big-budget sci-fi thriller!"

- SEGA Visions Vol 1 June/July 1990

Never officially released in North America! For Zero Wing, you must fight across 8 stages using 3 different weapons and your Tractor Beam. Defeat each enemy commander including the flamboyant CATS, reclaim all your bases, and experience over 30 different endings - all fully translated!

"With its super-smooth gameplay, beautifully defined graphics, rocking soundtrack, amazing explosions, and incredible end-of-level bosses, this game has the lot!"

- Tim Boone, Computer & Video Games 117 (UK, Aug. '91)

Alwa's Awakening

THE 8-BIT EDITION

The 8-Bit Edition (NES®)

In Alwa's Awakening, you play as Zoe, a heroine sent from another world to bring peace to the land of Alwa. Equipped only with a magic staff, she awakens in a distant land and must set out to help the people. Traverse dangerous dungeons, meet interesting and fun characters, and explore the world in this 8-bit adventure game. Just like the old classics, you won't have a flashing arrow telling you exactly where to go and what to do next. Instead, you are free to find your own way and by using your magic staff, you can progress through the over-400 unique challenging rooms in the game.

THE ULTIMATE TEAM IS BACK!

When the Dark Queen and Shadow Boss come together to try to take over Earth, they will also end up bringing together two of the most iconic teams in gaming. With the Battletoads - Rash, Pimple, and Zitz - and the Double Dragon twins - Billy and Jimmy Lee, you can bet that the dastardly duo will be in for some pain!

With the Earth's defenses out of the picture, it's up to this team-up of brawlers to save the planet with their combined might. On the other end, you'll find classic enemies from both series like Big Blag, Abobo, Guido, Roper, Robo-Manus, and many more scumbags.

Up to two players can choose from five fighters and venture through eight treacherous stages using every possible technique to smash, bash, and thrash through enemies. From the massive space cruiser - the Colossus - to the scummy streets down below full of rats and thugs, each level will give the 'Toads and Dragons plenty of targets to choose from. It's time to get mean and green!
