

Praise Sigmar! Free content update coming to TOTAL WAR: WARHAMMER II is its biggest yet!

Free Legendary Lord for the Lizardmen plus a game-changing update for the Empire

Available September 11th alongside The Hunter & Beast DLC, this highly anticipated Old World update and Free-LC ushers in the meatiest update yet for TOTAL WAR: WARHAMMER II with a war-wagon's worth of new content for the Empire and Lizardmen factions!

The Old World update really puts the Empire in Mortal Empires, with territory updates, game-changing campaign mechanics, and the brand new fort settlement type available to Karl Franz and his allies. The biggest of these updates introduces the new Elector Counts political system which will now make it possible for players to confederate the Empire without going to war with the other imperious counts – if you play your cards right.

The update also introduces a new free Legendary Lord for the Lizardmen in the form of Gor-Rok. This Great White Lizard is amongst the greatest and most renowned Saurus in living memory. He does not know pain or fear, and in combat he is unrelenting – always looking for another opening to attack, while never himself taking a single step backwards.

The free content will be available on September 11th to coincide with the release of the Hunter & the Beast DLC pack, now available to pre-purchase at a 10% discount:
