Once in the Era of Showa, the defunct Japanese Army intended to approach Henry Pu-yi, the last Emperor of Ching dynasty in their effort to take advantage of his position. However, they were defeated by the Imperial Guards utilizing the martial art called "Hakkyokukan". Later on, the Japanese Army is said to have plagiarized the mysteries of "Hakkyokukan" to create the strongest infantrymen and based on this art, complemented the ultimate martial art. Approximately half a century has elapsed since then and now, Akira Yuki, a young man goes on his fighting tour to test his ability. The ultimate World Fighting Tournament is now to start and all kinds of fighters from all over the world, solely relying on one's physical strength, engage in a life-and-death struggle to determine the world's No. 1 Fighter. Behind the Tournament, however, there exists an intrigue designed by the evil Syndicate.
